Choosing a caravan site...

Finding your ideal caravan site depends on what you are hoping to get out of your holiday. Caravan sites vary in both size and facilities and offer many different features. Nearly all will have mod cons such as Wi-Fi and battery charging facilities, but the style and location of the caravan site is up to you.

You may want to relax at a peaceful caravan site near a Loch in Scotland, or stay at a site that is on the doorstep of some of the most stunning scenery and walks in the Lake District. Use The Camping and Caravanning Club's caravan site search engine, SiteSeeker, to search caravan sites all over the UK, by specific facility, location or site type.

Some caravan sites are larger and may have a swimming pool, laundry facilities, a TV room or recreation hall. Others are smaller, quieter and have fewer facilities. This type of caravan site would suit you if you are looking for a more secluded holiday, or if you plan on spending little time in your caravan, returning only to sleep after a long day out sightseeing.

The Camping and Caravanning Club boasts a number of small certificated sites which offer a more private and intimate caravanning experience as well as unbeatably low prices.

Confident Towing

An important part of a caravanning holiday involves towing your caravan to your desired location. If you haven't towed a vehicle before, and are not quite sure where to start, we understand it is the sort of thing that could put you off going on a caravanning holiday altogether. However, there is no need to feel anxious about it. Take a look at our topical articles towing and the law, what can I tow? and confident towing for everything you will need to know about towing your caravan legally and safely.

There are places where you can practise towing before you buy a caravan, which should make you feel more comfortable when you realise that it is much easier than you thought it would be. If you become a member of The Camping and Caravanning Club, you can take full advantage of our Caravan and Motorhome Manoeuvring Courses, which guarantees to help you feel more confident about setting off on your caravan holiday.

It is not hard to see why caravan holidays are so popular. They offer complete flexibility and freedom, allowing you to go wherever you choose, whenever you choose. If, after a hard week's work, you decide you want to get away from it all and enjoy a relaxed, picturesque weekend away from the grind of daily life, you can do so with a caravan. Your time really is your own on a caravanning holiday, no matter how short the break.

Enjoy a home away from home on a caravan holiday

It is said that 'you can't have everything'. However, in the case of the caravan holiday this is far from true. Do you want all the home comforts such as running water and a comfy bed, whilst also craving a holiday where you are completely in control, restricted in your plans only by your own imagination? Well, you're in luck. A caravan holiday can offer you all of these things, and more.
